

19 October 2011

P&O Maritime wins at Seatrade Awards

Dubai, United Arab Emirates - P&O Maritime has won the Marine and Offshore Services Award at the annual Seatrade Middle East & Indian Subcontinent Awards on Monday 17th October.

Entries for the award are assessed on the basis of six fundamental principles including contribution and commitment to the development of the maritime sector across the region; innovation either technical, operational or commercial; commitment to safety & quality; social & environmental responsibilities; business enterprise and achievement and engagement with training and development of personnel.

P&O Maritime's commitment to operational excellence, business improvement, personnel development and corporate social responsibility were amongst the sustainable value additions which helped it secure this prestigious award.

Described as the 'Oscars of the maritime world,' the Seatrade Awards recognises companies and individuals for outstanding achievements over the previous 12 months. The award is tangible recognition of P&O Maritime's Vision of Global Maritime Excellence.

The event – held in the majestic ballroom at Atlantis, The Palm, Dubai – was hosted by renowned CNN presenter Richard Quest, in front of an audience of 800 guests which read like a who's who of the maritime industry. The award was received by Mr. Peter Wilkes, Regional Manager - Middle East and Africa.

Irene Bellette, Acting Managing Director, P&O Maritime said, "We are delighted to win this prestigious award. It is wonderful recognition of the work the team is doing for our customers in the region. We will continue to work hard to earn their support into the future."

Pictured: P&O Maritime, Middle East and Africa Regional Manager Peter Wilkes accepting the Marine and Offshore Services Award from Capt. Feisal Saad, Port Manager, Ras Laffan Industrial City. On the right is Andrew Callaghan, Seatrade's Managing Director, Asia and Global Sales Director.